New Postal Rate Charts Suitable for framing!

ProList, Inc. is an Industry Innovator in data management and direct mail services solutions.

As you read in an earlier edition of ProNews, postage rates will be "adjusted" on January 26, 2014, that adjustment being mostly an increase of 5.9%. We have attached the latest rate charts:

Standard Mail Rate Chart
First Class Mail Rate Chart
USPS Detailed Rates

It is important to note that these rate charts are not exhaustive, but do cover the vast majority of rates used for most of our clients. There are peculiar new rates for such things as mail presorted to a DFSS scheme, and drop shipped to a DFSS. The discount for this is generally 1/10th of a cent for such qualified pieces and, trust us, you don't have any. There are also peculiar variations in some destination entry discounts that apply to certain high-density saturation mailings deposited at DDU's. Again, highly unlikely to be relevant to you.

You may also note that we have not included pound rates for Standard Mail letter-size pieces, so called Heavy Letters that weigh between 3.3 and 3.5 ounces. If you need that kind of granular detail you can find the entire spectrum of new postal rates in the table provided by USPS. We believe you will find our charts more helpful, but we're good sports – delve deeper if you like.

Because of their more complex nature, we have also not included Periodical Rates, but you can access those in detail in the USPS Detailed Rates
